Foundational principles

|  |  |   |
|--|--|---|
| Work with older people as experts and the agents of change   | Trauma informed approach   | Respect people and diversity  |
| Older people are recognised as the ultimate authority in their lives to live well and minimise vulnerabilities to harm. | Understanding how people’s histories impact their lives now and taking this into account in how we provide support. | Acknowledging and responding to older people’s diversity, individuality and culture. |

Strategic priorities

|  |  |
| Age inclusive society  | Organisations, services and supports that work for people  |
| Older South Australians can live free of ageism and are treated with respect, without prejudice, discrimination or being stereotyped, no matter their age.      | Organisations, services and supports have the capability and flexibility to adapt to individual circumstances and changing needs. |
| Connected people and community   | Safe and secure homes  |
| Everyone has the opportunity to create and maintain meaningful connections to people and their communities of choice to reduce social isolation and loneliness. | Greater choice and access to homes where people feel safe, have secure tenure and can live on their own terms.                    |

Supporting conditions

|   |   |
|---|---|
| Growing access to support from peers  | Preparedness and choice   |
| Greater options and access for people to receive support and services from peers.            | People are better prepared for their older years and understand their choices.         |
| Fostering intergenerational relationships   | Inclusive technology  |
| Opportunities that value and foster relationships and connection between people of all ages. | Technology that works for everyone that doesn’t create reliance on others for its use. |
