

Practitioner registration

Eligible medical practitioners who wish to participate in voluntary assisted dying in South Australia can register to access the Voluntary Assisted Dying Clinical Portal.

The VAD Clinical Portal is the secure online system used to manage access to voluntary assisted dying in South Australia.

To access the VAD Clinical Portal, medical practitioners must either:

- hold a fellowship with a specialist medical college or
- be a vocationally registered general practitioner.

Before you start

To register you'll need all the below:

- to confirm you meet the minimum eligibility requirements for Coordinating or Consulting Medical Practitioners
- your Ahpra number
- your Health Provider Identifier (HPI-I) number
- a copy of your proof of identity ready to upload to the Portal.

How to register

Step 1: Navigate to the Practitioner Registration form

- 1. Go to the VAD Clinical Portal homepage.
- 2. Click on the Apply for access button.

Step 2: Complete the Practitioner registration form

- 1. Enter your AHPRA Registration number.
- 2. Enter your HPI-I number.

Hint: You can find your Ahpra Registration number and your HPI-I number by logging into the Ahpra website.

- 3. Enter your name.
- 4. Enter your mobile phone number.

We'll send a text message to your mobile phone number with a onetime passcode. You'll need to enter this passcode when you log in to access the VAD Clinical Portal. This helps us keep information stored in the Portal secure.

- 5. Enter your contact details, including your telephone number, email, your practice address and your mailing address.
- 6. Record whether a patient made a first request to access voluntary assisted dying to you in the last 7 calendar days.

We'll use this information to prioritise your registration.

7. Record whether you consent to your information being shared with the Voluntary Assisted Dying Care Navigator Service.

The Care Navigator Service may contact you in relation to patients who are seeking support from a medical practitioner to access voluntary assisted dying.
